Letter from the Head of School

September 2011

To The Webb School Community,

School has opened for the 142nd year with enthusiastic scholars and faculty eager to “pedigree their ancestors.” It has been a distinct honor for me to serve as Webb’s Head of School, and I approach my second year with much enthusiasm and resolve to help make Webb the best it can be.

On the first day of school, we welcomed 304 students, 98 boarders and 206 day. Our student body represents 12 different foreign countries: Korea, China, Vietnam, Taiwan, Nigeria, Brazil, Jamaica, Spain, Turkey, the Bahamas, Iran, and Ethiopia and also many states including Alabama, Iowa, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, Illinois, Michigan, California, and, of course, Tennessee. As I said to the students on the first day of school in chapel, I believe that we are likely the most diverse school in Middle Tennessee. With this diversity, there are many wonderful opportunities to learn about cultural differences in the classroom, at meals, on the playing fields, and in the dormitories. We encourage our students to learn from each other every day.

This year, we also welcomed the most recent recipient of The Webb School Honors Scholarship, Paige Schoonover ’15 of Clarksville, who received a full scholarship to The Webb School (renewable each year pending a strong performance). Schoonover was selected as the school’s Honors Scholar among a field of 11 finalists, all of whom were invited to the Webb Campus to compete for the four-year scholarship valued at more than $154,000. Webb’s Honors Scholarship program recognizes exceptional students who excel in academics, extracurricular activities and leadership. The Honors Scholarship program is Webb’s only full merit scholarship, which includes tuition and boarding for four years. Awarded once a year, the program recognizes rising ninth grade boarding students who are ready to become leaders in the college preparatory school academic environment. Your annual support of Webb helps fund this important initiative to attract strong boarding students to Webb.

On August 26, the Follin Chair in English was awarded to veteran faculty member Mr. Ron Smith. Known for his strong teaching, his intellectual approach, and his passion for Quiz Bowl, Mr. Smith is most deserving of this honor. The Follin chair was established in honor of G. Webb Follin, Jr., a longtime trustee of the school and a graduate of the class of 1938. The Follin family worked hard to raise the necessary funds to establish this endowed chair. The Follin Chair truly honors both the work of its recipient and the Follin family for their love for Webb.

When you come to campus, you may notice many improvements completed by our Maintenance Staff during the summer. There is a new sound system and new sound panels in the Barton Gymnasium. These improvements will not only help our athletics teams, but will also enable us to use the gym for other events (Parent Auction, Reunion Weekend, etc.). A new irrigation system was installed in the lacrosse field, and the ladies rest room in the Big Room was completely renovated. We also installed a new siren to improve our emergency warning system. With improvement in radar technology, tornado warnings are far more frequent than they were in the past. These and many other minor projects are part of the deferred maintenance that is necessary to keep the school running properly. These are hardly glamorous projects, but most necessary!

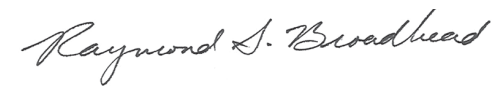

In these uncertain economic times, we are all challenged to make our budgets, to try to secure the future, and to provide the best product possible. The Webb School faces the same challenges. While we are in good shape financially at Webb, without the support of our alumni, parents, faculty, grandparents, and other friends we would not make our budget each year. It is no secret that tuition alone does not cover the costs necessary to educate each student at Webb today, nor did it in the past. We count on the philanthropy of our various stakeholders to ensure present programming, develop new programming, and maintain the functionality and beauty of our 140-acre campus.

I give my deepest thanks to all of you whose names are included in this publication. This demonstration of your support of Webb and its mission is most gratifying. If you do not see your name and we have made an error, please contact us so that we can make amends. If you do not see your name because you forgot to support Webb in the last fiscal year, please use the enclosed envelope to make a gift or pledge for this year. Your name will then be included in the 2011-2012 Annual Report! Any gift, large or small, is deeply appreciated.

Thank you for your interest in Webb and for your help in sustaining its lasting legacy.

Sincerely,

Raymond S. Broadhead

Letter from the Chairman, Board of Trustees

September 2011

Dear Webb Friends,

As I write this final letter as outgoing Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Webb School, the overwhelming emotion I feel is gratitude for the support I have received in the last 5 years. Webb is truly blessed to have each of you as a part of our community. Alumni, parents, grandparents, faculty, staff and friends all contribute to the success of this wonderful academic home. Thank you for giving so freely of your time, talents and resources. Without your support, the School would not have thrived or maybe even survived these 142 years.

I would especially like to publicly thank the trustees. By any measure they are a great Board. Meetings are thoughtful, strategic and instructive. Committees are well attended, diligent and focused. They have been incredibly supportive of my role. As stakeholders of the School, you can feel confident that it is in very good hands. George Pine '68, our new Chairman, and Vance Berry '72, Vice Chairman, will lead with vision and energy, recognizing and meeting the challenges and opportunities as they arise.

One of many lessons I have learned on the Board is that non-profit, self-governing institutions like Webb can be fragile. Fragile – because they depend so heavily on volunteer leadership. Examples of this abound at Webb. Our committed parent volunteers give tireless hours to the WSPA and PAWS, and as parent giving class captains and admissions ambassadors. The Alumni Board is strategically focused now on reaching out to connect with our increasingly diverse alumni population, making full use of new technology but also not forgetting what a difference a phone call from a classmate can make.

Your leadership, your service and your support are creating a stronger institution – an institution that defies the odds: a thriving private school without a major metropolitan base, a school that values character, diversity and integrity in a world that seems to devalue those very traits, and an eternal place in time and space that challenges its students one by one, day by day to be better scholars and citizens.

It has also been my honor to get to know our faculty and staff well. They are Webb's greatest asset. These men and women lead and teach our students by their expertise, by their dedication and by their example. We are all in their debt. I know I join each of you in saying thank you to them as well.

Finally, I thank you as a native of Bell Buckle. Webb is so much a part of Bell Buckle, and Bell Buckle of Webb that they are inseparable. They are both national treasures. One of the greatest honors of my life has been serving as Webb's first "homeboy" Chairman. With thanks,

Phillip G. Coop '66

Endowment Giving

Endowed gifts benefit teachers, students, and programs at Webb

One way that Webb friends can give back in perpetuity is to create an endowed fund. An endowed fund is established by creating a nucleus fund which is invested and managed so that a percentage of the fund's value may be withdrawn each year to support a scholarship, a faculty endowment, or a school program of the donor's choice. The fund may be named in honor of the donor, an individual who is important to the donor, or for the program the donor wishes to support.

The endowed Follin Chair fund was established to honor the late G. Webb Follin, Jr. for a lifetime of service to the school and for his contributions to further education in Tennessee. The proceeds from this permanent endowment will fund, in perpetuity, a member of the faculty chosen by the administration to lead in their academic discipline.

Webb Follin, Jr. grew up on the Webb campus. His father was a graduate of Webb, class of 1908, and returned to teach and serve as assistant principal for 32 years and headmaster for seven. An accomplished scholar and athlete, Mr. Follin graduated from Webb in the class of 1938 then continued his academic pursuits at Vanderbilt, University of Texas Law School and further graduate studies at Southern Methodist University. After serving for four years in World War II as a gunnery officer aboard the USS Gendreau in the South Pacific, he returned to Nashville for a distinguished professional career in the insurance and consulting businesses until his death in 1992. He served on The Webb School Board of Trustees for 33 years and as chair of the Executive Committee for 13 years. Additionally, he was one of a group of trustees who saw the importance of endowment income to the future of The Webb School.

Ron Smith, an English teacher at The Webb School for 26 years, was presented the G. Webb Follin, Jr. Chair of English during a school ceremony on Aug. 26, 2011.

"It's a profoundly rewarding and humbling honor," Smith said of being named holder of the Follin Chair of English. "I feel like I'm part of a great tradition." Smith expressed appreciation to the Follin family. He added, "Teaching is being honored and celebrated. I feel more engaged in the well-being of this institution than I ever have before."

141 Years of Tradition

Ours is a storied history steeped in wonderful, lasting traditions. Senior blazers. Declamations and orations. Webb students standing when an adult enters a classroom. Honor Council. Signing the honor pledge. Trapping. Walking downtown for ice cream. Prefects. "Integer Vitae" (Webb's alma mater). Winter Freeze. Senior Survival. Classes outside under the trees. Thousands have been touched by these time-honored traditions.

Capital Projects and Facility Improvements

Webb's annual operating budget includes funds for capital projects such as building maintenance and repairs, upgrades, and technology hardware. An additional capital budget supplements the operating budget to provide larger-scale projects and improvements. Whenever possible, upgrades and repairs emphasize energy efficiency, conservation, and effective support of school programs. Technology hardware supports the 21st Century curriculum at Webb.

Total funds of $371,042 were allocated to the following capital improvements completed during the 2010-2011 fiscal year (before July 1, 2011). Not all projects are listed because of space constraints.

Items funded by capital budget

- Refurbished Big Room women's restroom
- Electrical system repair (Chambliss Dorm)
- Window replacement in five faculty residences
- New floor covering in Bond Library
- New HVAC units and ducts
(Haun-Ragland Gym, Barton Gym)
- New dormitory furniture (Chambliss dorm)
- New dormitory floor covering (Rand dorm)
- New roof for Junior Room

Items funded by operations

- New A/C units
(Woosley-Davis Science Building, Big Room, Infirmary, Bond Library)
- 22 Laptops, 7 tablets, 7 desktops, 7 projectors
(general campus use)
- Athletic field refurbishments
– seeding, irrigation, field markers
- Resurfaced gym floors
- Classroom refurbishments
- AED Defibrillator Units
(Barton Gym, Rand, Administration Building)

- Two passenger vans
- One school bus
- Campus grading for drainage
- New campus recycling bins
- Instruments, bass, cello, 2 violins, 12 guitars
- Laundry room refurbishment
– Chambliss dorm

Relationships

Student-teacher relationships are extremely close at Webb. It's because we connect in so many ways — in classrooms, over meals, on teams, in clubs, throwing the frisbee, playing chess, camping out, cooking together, you name it. Faculty members are teachers, they are mentors, and they are friends.

Honor Lives Here

Our honor code guides and enriches our daily life at Webb. It allows us to leave a backpack or cell phone unattended. It allows us to trust what each other says. It allows for a test to be taken without a teacher present. It allows us to know what's right, and to do what's right, comfortably. Princeton University has been duly impressed — they modeled their own well-known university honor code after ours.

Annual Giving

Class of 2011 Senior Gift aids in replenishing Outerlimits W.I.L.D. Fund

Gifts to the Webb Fund, which supports each school year's operating budget, are a critical part of Webb's fund-raising future. Gifts are sometimes restricted to support a school program of particular interest to the donor(s). The graduating class of 2011 demonstrated their leadership among Webb alumni by dedicating their first class gift of more than $2,500 to help replenish the Outerlimits Wilderness Instruction and Leadership Development (W.I.L.D.) Fund.

Appreciation for the outdoors is a tradition at Webb, as evidenced by "Sawney's" philosophies about letting students roam and study outside, wilderness camps in the 1950s and 1960s, and the advent of the Outerlimits program in the 1970s. (W.I.L.D.) is an exciting program that supplements the Outerlimits program by combining classroom lessons with the outdoors. Through instruction in class, on trips, and in different workshops, W.I.L.D. members gain skills needed to lead trips into the wilderness. Some of the workshops the class attends are Wilderness First-Aid and ropes course safety and operation. The W.I.L.D. program was established in 2005 with funds from private donor gifts.

"The W.I.L.D. program has become a driving force behind the Outerlimits program," said Brian Wofford, director of Outerlimits and leader of W.I.L.D. "It makes Outerlimits a more complete experience for the students."

Five members of the class of 2011 completed the W.I.L.D. program while at Webb. The entire class of 2011 voted to dedicate their gift to the W.I.L.D.

program on their final night of Senior Survival. They made their gift after they received their Webb Bibles and diplomas, setting an example of their leadership in giving to their fellow Webb alumni.

"I am so grateful for this gift," said Wofford. "The money that makes W.I.L.D. possible allows Webb to do more than what the Outerlimits budget alone can sustain, including fees, travel costs for members, and special equipment."

Alumni Giving

Each Webb alumnus/a received the gift of a “hidden scholarship”—philanthropic gifts made to Webb while they were students. The Webb Fund is the way to “pay it forward” today. Tuition and fees do not cover the full costs of educating each student. Webb’s future depends on increased Annual Fund participation and average gift size. Gifts to the Webb Fund close the gap between the actual cost of operating the school and income from tuition and endowment creating this “hidden scholarship” for all Webb students. The fund contributes 7-10 percent of the school’s operating revenue each year.

Quite An Impression

Adults who meet our students often comment about the ease with which our students carry on conversations. They are often taken aback by our students' firm handshakes and the way in which they confidently look you in the eye. It's the way a young person should address an adult, and it's part of the character education.
